

Our core values are expressed in the Four Pillars of Dominican Life: Prayer, Study, Community and Mission.

Prayer. The heart. Whether private or public, prayer is a dialogue. At TheMount, we communally pray daily as well as during regular and special liturgies.

Study. An ongoing process. The eminent Dominican theologian Thomas Aquinas is an example of scholarship and the constant questioning in search of truth. At The Mount, we are a community of learners who challenge each other in the pursuit of academic excellence.

Community. Makes the individual journey easier. At The Mount, we build community by sharing our talents and gifts with each other in the classroom, in our liturgies, in outreach to those in need, in our student organizations, on our athletic teams, in performing arts groups and at social events.

Mission. The call to serve others. At The Mount, students learn that they have a responsibility to serve, to lend a helping hand, and do so through the Siena Service program.
